Musical Mission: Concert to Benefit Neighbors In Need

Holy Family Church Spearheads Cross Denominational Musical Event to Support Your Mission

WATERTOWN (Sept. 21, 2012)—Holy Family Church will host a benefit concert on Oct. 5th for the Watertown Urban Mission, bringing together contemporary and classic songs of praise and worship from across denominations.

The event at the church, 129 Winthrop St., will feature local artist Ryan Grant, the Faith Fellowship Church Worship Team, the St. James Family Choir, and accomplished soloists Maria Bufalini and Kim Tyler.

“It’s going to be a great time with a lot of wonderful music,” said Fr. Steven Murray, pastor at Holy Family and Mission board member. “Best of all, it’s going to be great for the Watertown Urban Mission.”

The Holy Family Church Evangelization Committee with Jackie Maloney and Theresa Bruso organized the event with the Watertown Urban Mission with the hope that this will lead to future events and feature more local worship teams from churches in support of the Mission.

“Christians of every tradition know how important it is that we help people in need,” Mrs. Bruso said. “We also share a common desire to celebrate our faith and sing songs of praise. What we are putting together is something that will appeal to anyone, if you enjoy hymns or the music on K-Love. We wanted to bring that sound to our church and help the Mission in doing so.”

The Watertown Urban Mission has a more than four decade long track record of bringing people together across denominations for a common purpose. The Mission was founded in 1968 and had 15 churches from a diverse cross section of denominations join in the first year. Today, the Mission has more than 40 member churches and serves around 30,000 individuals a year in six major programs.
